Dear Student,

Welcome to the Towson University community. You have made a wise decision to continue your education. You also have chosen an outstanding university at which to do so.

Graduate education is a high strategic priority at Towson University. We have embarked on an ambitious plan to add new graduate programs, strengthen existing programs, and expand the presence of graduate study on campus. By 2005, we expect graduate students to represent 20 percent of the student body.

Our graduate programs focus on applied knowledge and research. As a metropolitan university, Towson plays an important role in shaping and enhancing regional economic growth. One important way the university fulfills this role is through graduate education: providing advanced professional skills to citizens, while offering new knowledge and applications to private, public and nonprofit organizations.

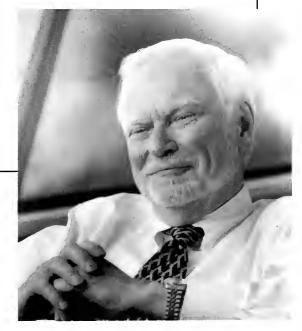

As you are well aware, new knowledge is being created all about us at a rapid pace, and continuous, lifelong learning has become a necessity for those who want to stay current, credentialed and creative. Whatever your field of study, I know that you will find at Towson a dedicated faculty, excellent information resources, state-of-the-art technology and valuable connections to others in your profession – in short, the essential elements of a positive learning environment.

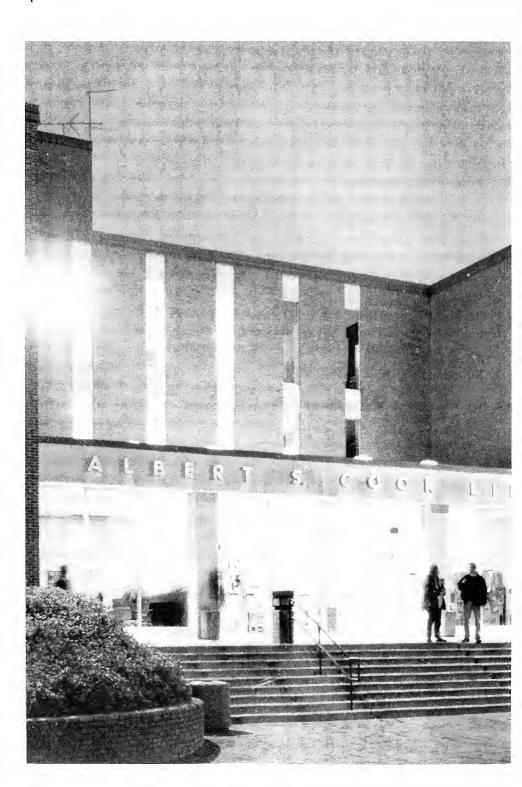

This catalog will serve as your guide during your graduate career at Towson University. In it you will find details about programs, courses, policies and campus services. I wish you the best during your studies at Towson, and in all your future endeavors.

Cordially,

General Information

History

The institution known today as Towson University opened its doors in 1866 in downtown Baltimore as the Maryland State Normal School - the only institution devoted exclusively to the preparation of teachers for the public schools of Maryland. The first class consisted of 11 students.

In 1915 the school moved to Towson. By 1935 it established the Bachelor of Science degree in education and changed its name to Maryland State Teachers College at Towson. In 1946 it introduced an arts and sciences program, and in 1963 the institution expanded its offerings in the arts and sciences and became Towson State College.

Towson was granted university status on July 1, 1976, in recognition of its development into a comprehensive university. In 1988 Towson State University joined the University System of Maryland. On July 1, 1997, Towson State University became Towson University, a change that reflects its evolution from a state-supported to a state-assisted institution. As of May 1999, the university has graduated 84,612 students. Since 1960, Towson University has awarded more than 9,000 advanced degrees.

Towson University enrolls and graduates more undergraduate students from the region than any other institution. Enrollment for the 1998 fall semester academic year was 11,032 full-time undergraduates, 2,527 part-time undergraduates and 2,364 graduate students.

The Campus

The university is situated on a beautifully landscaped 328-acre campus in the suburban community of Towson, Maryland, just eight miles north of downtown Baltimore. Students have easy access to the many cultural advantages of the city of Baltimore - the Peabody Conservatory of Music and Library, the Enoch Pratt Free Library, the Walters Art Gallery, the Baltimore Museum of Art, Meyerhoff Symphony Hall, the Lyric Theatre, Center Stage and many other cultural centers necessary for a well-rounded university experience.

Campus buildings and facilities give excellent support to the various university programs. The inside back cover of this catalog provides a pictorial guide of the campus, and Appendix A describes the campus facilities.

COLLEGE OF GRADUATE EDUCATION AND RESEARCH

The new College of Graduate Education and Research was formed in July, 1999 due to the increased demand by students for graduate education at Towson University. five years enrollment has increased 29 percent, with this year's fall student headcount being the highest ever, at 2,367. A team of administrators and staff in the college are committed to providing students with quality educational programs at the post-baccalaureate level and the highest level of student support services. In areas of academic strength such as Education and the Health professions, TU plans to offer applied doctoral programs in the future.

Overall, the unique aspect of TU's graduate education is providing students with cuttingedge courses and programs of study to develop the specific skills and knowledge needed by career professionals. TU has accepted the challenge set out by the Maryland Higher Education Commission to provide innovative graduate courses and programs that respond to specific state, regional, and national work force demands. Moreover, many enrolled graduate students are working full time, so graduate courses are offered at convenient times and at off-campus sites as well as at the main TU campus.

TU currently offers 26 master's degrees, and five post-baccalaureate certificates in five colleges. Faculty from across the university community and professors of practice work together in graduate education. Many of the faculty are nationally prominent scholars who encourage graduate students to collaborate on faculty research projects and creative produc-

To provide the best possible education for its graduate students the College of Graduate Education and Research is guided by its vision and mission for graduate education.

Vision Statement

As TU develops into "one of the nation's premier regional comprehensive universities," expanding the mission of graduate education will play an important role in achieving this goal. In particular, TU will broaden the scope of graduate programs; will provide opportunities for faculty to utilize the full complement of their disciplinary, creative, and research knowledge; and will actively recruit outstanding students, as it provides high-quality graduate education for its residents within the mid-Atlantic region. TU's graduate education program will continue to be measured through an ongoing process of assessment and periodic evaluation.

TU will educate graduate students through the utilization of innovative technologies that promote learning through teaching and scholarship. Access to graduate programs will be available to all eligible students, and will be offered at a variety of locations, and will be delivered through various platforms, including: online courses, distance education and learning cohorts.

Graduate education at TU will strive to balance theoretical knowledge with practical learning. This will be achieved by offering several applied doctoral degrees and a wide range of quality master's degrees and certificates in the liberal and fine arts, teacher education, allied health fields, natural sciences, social sciences, business, and various professional disciplines. Students will be provided the opportunity to participate in professional internships, applied and pure research, and in supervised clinical experiences.

Mission Statement

The mission of graduate education at TU is to provide programs of study that allow individuals to advance their knowledge, increase their practical skills, and develop leadership abilities in a broad spectrum of professions; to enhance their disciplinary knowledge through the collaboration of faculty and students on research projects; to be actively engaged in the process of improving the quality of life for others and themselves; and to develop the desire in each individual to become a continuous, lifelong learner. To achieve its mission, the Graduate School at TU has identified the following goals:

- To provide all students with high-quality graduate programs in traditional areas and applied or interdisciplinary fields.
- 2. To provide a broad selection of academic programs that are current, continually updated and technologically based; to integrate and make available basic and applied research; to prepare students to achieve their professional and personal goals; and to meet the needs of the workforce.
- 3. To promote graduate education that is adultstudent-centered and fosters diversity.
- 4. To promote and acknowledge faculty and student scholarship.
- To review and periodically update policies and services for graduate education to facilitate the achievement of student and faculty goals.
- To develop processes for ongoing assessment and periodic evaluation of graduate programs.
- To sustain growth in graduate student enrollment to at least 25 percent of the total student body.

Welcome to the Graduate School at Towson University and good luck with your program of study.

Research

Graduate Studies Committee

The Graduate Studies Committee, a committee of the University Senate, determines Graduate School policy and is responsible for graduate curriculum and standards.

The voting membership is comprised of six members of the faculty, two program directors and two graduate students. The dean of the College of Graduate Education and Research and the director of the library are ex officio members.

The Graduate Studies Committee also hears student appeals that are related to academic matters. The appeals process is described in Appendix F.

Administration

The dean and staff of the College of Graduate Education and Research administer the Graduate School and implement the policies established by the Graduate Studies Committee. On all matters of curriculum and academic requirements for individual graduate programs, the faculty contacts are the program directors.

The Graduate School Office is open Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (except for scheduled holidays). During registration, the office is open in the evening according to the registration schedule. Students may arrange for appointments with the Graduate School staff at other hours. The Graduate School telephone number is 410-830-2501.

The Graduate School offers weekly information sessions for students who would like to meet with a staff member to review their options for graduate education. This service is available from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. one day a week. No appointment is necessary, and individuals are met with on a first-come, first-serve basis. Call the Graduate School, 410-830-2501, for details and day of the week.

Procedures and Policies

ADMISSION TO GRADUATE SCHOOL

The application process is administered through the Graduate School Office. To request a complete admissions package, contact the Graduate School office, 410-830-2501, 1-888-4TOWSON or through the World Wide Web at www.towson.edu/grad.

The Graduate School at Towson University admits applicants whose academic and personal qualifications give promise of success in graduate study. The applicant must hold a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university, or from a Maryland college or university that is approved by the Maryland Higher Education Commission.

Full Admission

An applicant for admission to a degree program can meet admission requirements by holding (1) a master's degree or doctorate from a regionally accredited college or university, or (2) a bachelor's degree with a grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4-point scale) and all additional admission requirements of the specific graduate program. The grade point average will be calculated for the most recent 60 credits. Courses beyond the baccalaureate degree must be at least upper-division undergraduate work to be used in the GPA calculation.

Conditional Admission

Under certain conditions, graduate programs may admit students who have less than a 3.0 GPA. The minimum acceptable GPA, and other specific conditions such as prerequisite courses, is established by each program. Students admitted under the Conditional Admissions status are required to correct any deficiencies as determined by the graduate program director. The requirements to continue in the program are listed on the admissions worksheet and sent to the graduate student from the graduate program director. Completion of the conditional stipulation removes this status from the student's record.

The minimum undergraduate grade point average for conditional admission may be waived for an applicant whose undergraduate degree was obtained at least ten years earlier, and who can document a minimum of five years of successful working experience in a field relevant to the applicant's program. The candidate's application to the Graduate School must be supported in writing by the program director. Candidates must meet all other entrance requirements of the program.

Provisional Admission

Several graduate programs grant provisional admission to students with a minimum GPA of 2.5. A student admitted provisionally is required to achieve a 3.5 GPA in the first 12 graduate credits taken at Towson University. The 12 credits can be included toward a Towson University graduate degree program, if approved by the graduate program director. Completion of the provisional requirement removes this status from the student's record.

Non-Degree Enrollment

Students may elect to enroll for graduate courses as non-degree students. Students generally choose non-degree status when (1) their academic goal is not completion of a degree or certificate program; (2) they wish to begin course work prior to final evaluation of their credentials for admission to a program; or (3) they have been denied admission to a program but choose to take selected courses. Non-degree students may register for courses through the 600 level. Non-degree students who wish to take courses above the 600 level may do so after a transcript evaluation. Requests for an evaluation should be directed to the associate dean. A limit of 12 semester hours, taken while a non-degree student, may be applied to a degree program with the approval of the program director.

International Students

To ensure timely processing, the completed application for international students should be received no later than May 15 for fall, and October 15 for spring. (Applicants must also adhere to program-specific deadlines.) Applicants must submit, in an unopened university envelope, two official or certified true copies of all grade reports, diplomas, and academic records verifying the completion of the undergraduate degree. The Graduate School requires that applicants who have attended institutions outside of the United States have their academic records evaluated by a credential evaluation service. The assessment should include the student's degree, overall grade point average, and a course-by-course evaluation. Applicants should be aware that the evaluation process takes a minimum of four weeks. Assessments should be sent directly to the Graduate School. Visit our Web site at www.towson.edu/cgee/grad/internl.html for a list of authorized credential evaluation services and other documentation that must be submitted by international students.

Among the authorized credential evaluation services are these:

World Education Services P.O. Box 745 Old Chelsea Station New York, NY 10113-0745 212-966-6311 1-800-WES-3985 www.wes.org

International students must provide verification of their English competency by taking the Test of English as Foreign Language (TOEFL). A minimum score of 550 on the TOEFL is required for admission. (A minimum score of 500 is required for admission into Applied and Industrial Mathematics, Music Performance, and Studio Arts.) Information about the TOEFL administration dates and registration procedures may be obtained from TOEFL, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, NJ 08540, USA. Towson University is a test site for the TOEFL. Towson University administers an institutional TOEFL in the fall/December and spring/May. Information can be obtained from TU's English Language Center, 410-830-2552.

Admission Prior to Receiving Baccalaureate Degree

Admission to some programs may be granted to seniors in their final semester. Undergraduate work through the first semester of the senior year is evaluated; therefore transcripts submitted must include all grades through that semester. Admission standing is subject to cancellation or change if the admission credentials remain incomplete or do not meet the requirements for admission upon receipt of the final transcript.

Graduate Work by Seniors at Towson University

Seniors at TU may register for a maximum of 6 credit hours of graduate study if they meet the following criteria: (1) the graduate courses must be in excess of the credits required for the bachelor's degree; (2) the student submits to the associate dean, in advance of registration, a written request specifying the graduate courses requested; (3) the student maintains a 3.0 or higher cumulative average. Payment for the courses is separate from that of undergraduate courses taken in the same semester and is at the graduate tuition rate. The courses may be transferred later to the student's graduate record.

Dual Career Program

Towson University offers the Dual Career Program for post-baccalaureate students who wish to pursue a second bachelor's degree or an undergraduate certificate in teaching or premedicine while enrolled in a master's degree program at TU. Students who are interested in taking graduate and undergraduate studies in different fields at the same time may contact the Office for Non-Traditional Undergraduate Programs, 410-830-2471, for further information.

Validation of Undergraduate Degree

An applicant enrolled for courses is not allowed to register beyond the first semester if the transcript validating the baccalaureate degree is not received in the Graduate School Office by the required date; no refund is granted, and the student's application is removed from the graduate files. A new application and fee must be submitted if the student wishes to take courses for graduate credit at a later time.

REGISTRATION AND FEES

Registration

Information concerning registration, including semester course schedule booklets, may be obtained in the Graduate School Office. Only students admitted to a graduate program without conditions may register for 700- and 800level courses except with special permission of the Graduate School.

Deferred Registration After Admission

Students admitted to a degree program may defer registration for initial courses for up to one year, with the consent of the graduate program director. If enrollment in courses does not occur within one year, or the student does not inform the Graduate School Office of another starting date, the applicant's records will be removed from the files and the student must reapply for future enrollment.

Continuous Enrollment

Students are expected to register for courses on a regular basis. If two academic years elapse during which a student does not enroll in courses for graduate credit, the student's records are removed from the Graduate School office files. If the student desires to take graduate courses after this action, he or she must initiate the application process as a new applicant.

Full-Time and Part-Time Status

A student who registers for 9 graduate semester hours in the fall or spring semester (6 during summer session) is considered a fulltime student. One who takes fewer hours is designated a part-time student. The maximum load for full-time students is 12 semester hours (9 in summer).

Auditing Courses

Students may audit courses that carry gradnate credit with the written consent of the instructor. Any graduate student may audit a course through the 600 level. Courses at the 700 level may be audited only by students admitted to a degree program. Audited courses appear on the university record as "AU" and may not be used to repeat a course for which credit has already been earned. Audited courses may not count as part of the credit hour load or be applied toward the master's degree. The regular tuition rate applies to audited courses.

Visiting Graduate Students

Students who are candidates for a graduate degree at another college or university may take graduate courses at Towson University. At registration the student must present a letter from the graduate dean of the home institution indicating that the student is in good standing and that credit earned at TU is acceptable towards his or her degree.

Inter-Institutional Enrollment

Students admitted to graduate programs are eligible to take courses at other University System of Maryland schools. Credits earned at a host school will be placed on the student's Towson record with the grade earned. Tuition and fees for any such courses will be paid at Towson. Regulations governing this type of enrollment and the form for registration may be obtained in the Graduate School Office. The form must be signed by the associate dean after appropriate approval is obtained. Interinstitutional enrollment is not available for the summer session.

Course Numbers

Each department has one or more three- or four-letter codes preceding the three-digit course classification number. The three-digit course number indicates the following level:

100-499	undergraduate courses
500-599	upper-division courses
600-699	offered for graduate credit graduate courses available to all post-baccalaureate students
700-799	graduate courses available only to fully admitted graduate students
800-899	graduate research and thesis courses

Upper-Division Courses for Graduate Credit

A maximum of 9 credit hours of 500-level courses may be included to meet the requirements for a graduate degree. A course taken for undergraduate credit may not be repeated at the 500 level for graduate credit.

POLICIES ON ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Grading System

A - 4 quality points

B - 3 quality points

C - 2 quality points F - 0 quality points

FX - assigned when the student registers for a course but does not attend, or fails to withdraw officially from the course by the published last date to drop the course.

I (incomplete) - assigned at the end of the semester because of illness or other reasons beyond control of the student. Unless the course is completed by the last day of the next regular semester, the grade becomes F. It is the responsibility of the student to make arrangements to complete course requirements for removal of the I.

IP (in progress) -assigned for the thesis continuum. When the thesis is completed the IP grades are changed to S (satisfactory) or U (unsatisfactory).

W (withdrawn) -assigned when the student withdraws from the course according to policy.

Academic Standing

Good academic standing in a degree program requires a minimum 3.0 grade point average for all courses taken for graduate credit whether or not they are required for the degree. Good academic standing is necessary to transfer course work, and to graduate.

Should the degree student's average fall below a 3.0, a letter of academic warning will be sent. The grade point average must be restored to 3.0 within 9 semester hours, completed in a one-year period from the semester in which the GPA fell below 3.0. A student on academic probation who does not restore the GPA to 3.0 as required will be withdrawn from the degree program. The 3.0 average may be restored by repeating courses or by taking additional courses. If courses beyond those required in the degree are taken to raise the GPA, a maximum of 6 semester hours approved by the graduate program director is allowed. All requirements for the program must be completed within the seven-year period permitted by Graduate School policy.

Repeating Courses

Courses for which a grade has been awarded may be repeated only once. The grade of W does not replace a previously awarded grade. When the course is repeated, the student receives the credits for the course (counted once) and the higher of the two grades. Upon completion of the repeated course, a repeated course form must be submitted to Enrollment Services by the student. Grades for courses taken at other institutions may not be used to replace grades for courses completed at Towson. Courses taken for undergraduate credit may not be repeated for graduate degree credit.

Withdrawal from a Course

When a student drops a course within the change-of-schedule period, no grade is recorded. If the course is dropped after the changeof-schedule period, but within the period to drop with the grade of W, the W grade will be recorded on the permanent record. Students who do not officially drop a course during the established time periods will receive the grade earned in the course (A,B,C,F) as determined by the instructor.

Students with documented medical problems or verified circumstances beyond their control, may petition the associate dean of the Graduate School to drop a course after the established deadline and receive a grade of W. Documentation must accompany the petition. If approved, grades of W will be recorded for all unearned grades (FX). Earned grades (A,B,C,F) will not be changed.

Admission to a Second Program after Academic Dismissal

A student academically dismissed from a degree program is not eligible to reenter the same program, but may apply to another degree program. No additional admission requests will be accepted from a student academically dismissed from two programs. A student academically dismissed from a degree program because of a low cumulative average may not utilize courses toward a degree that were taken prior to and including the semester in which the average fell below a 3.0.

Advising

At the time of admission to a graduate program, the student is assigned a faculty adviser by the department responsible for the student's program of study. Registration for a newly admitted student begins with a visit to the academic adviser, who will assist the student with information about specific courses and degree requirements, and the development of a program of study. The student should consult with the adviser before registration each semester.

Program of Study

Each degree student must follow a program which is approved by the student's adviser and the program director, and which conforms to Graduate School policy. Courses taken prior to planning the program of study can be included only if approved by the program director. The adviser's and the program director's approval are needed for any revisions. The program of study may include no more than 9 credits at the 500 level.

Change from One Degree Program to a Different Program

Students may request a change of program at any time, but may not be enrolled in two master's degree programs concurrently. The request should be in writing to the Graduate School Office. The standing granted in the original program does not guarantee similar standing in the new program, which is entered subject to policies in effect at the time of the change.

Courses taken prior to the transfer may be utilized as part of the degree program if applicable. All courses, including those taken in the earlier program and used in the new program, are calculated in the GPA considered for graduation. The seven-year period permitted for completion of program requirements begins with the earliest course taken in the former program that is applied to the new program.

It is possible to return to the first program if the return is requested in writing within 60 days of the original request to change programs. The student may return to the original program after the 60-day period, subject to admission policies in effect at the time of the application to return.

Reentry to a Degree Program after Lapse of Time Limitation

For readmission to the same or another degree program after the seven-year period for completion of the degree has elapsed, the student's records are evaluated and admission is granted under current Graduate School policy. Previous course work will be reviewed by the program director. Up to 12 semester hours of courses taken while previously admitted may be applied to the degree if they are still part of the program curriculum and are approved by the program director. Any courses not approved must be repeated or replaced with additional courses approved by the program director.

Transfer Credit

A maximum of up to 50 percent of the credits required for a degree program may be transferred, subject to approval by the program director. The seven-year limitation cannot be extended for transfer credits. Courses taken prior to admission must have been taken at an accredited college or university, must be applicable to a graduate degree at the offering institution, and cannot be utilized if part of an already conferred degree. Transfer courses must have been completed with a grade of B or higher. Pass/Fail or S/U grading is not acceptable.

Fees

Tuition and other fees are subject to change without notice by action of the University System of Maryland Board of Trustees. Consult the current Schedule of Classes for most current fees. Proposed rates for the 1999-2000 academic year are as follows:

Application fee: (nonrefundable) $40 Tuition:

Undergraduate, per semester hour

In-state $145 Out of state $341

Graduate, per semester hour
In-state $195
Out-of-state $386

University fee per credit - undergraduate (nonrefundable) $40

University fee per credit - graduate (nonrefundable) $41 Late registration fee $75

Private music lessons $85 per semester hour plus tuition

Payment of Fees

All checks or money orders should be made payable to Towson University for the exact amount of the charges. The student's social security number must appear on all checks submitted to the university. The university has no deferred payment plans. The Discover, MasterCard and VISA credit cards can be used for tuition, fees, room, dining point plan and other charges. It is imperative that students adhere to published payment deadlines. If tuition, fees and related charges are not paid by the established payment date, the student's class schedule will be voided and, if applicable, residence hall space will be forfeited. If a check given in payment of fees, fines or services is returned unpaid by the bank for any reason, a penalty fee of $50 is charged. Failure to reimburse the university for an uncollectible check may result in a student's class schedule being voided.

The financial policy set by the Board of Regents and supported by the legislative auditors of the State of Maryland requires that all previous balances be paid prior to registration for the following academic semester. The university employs a "first in/first out" method when applying payments to accounts. That is, payments are used to satisfy the oldest outstanding charge prior to applying any portion of a payment to current or more recent charges. Should the account of any student be sent to the Central Collection Unit of the State of Maryland because it is deemed delinquent, a 17 percent collection fee will be charged to the student. Students with outstanding balances should contact Financial Operations. Transcript requests will not be honored if a student has a financial obligation to the university.

FINANCIAL AID

Students who wish to apply for a graduate assistantship or for other types of financial aid must be admitted to a degree program before an award can be made. New students should allow sufficient time for admission credentials to be assembled and for the graduate school application to be completely processed.

Assistantships

A limited number of graduate assistantships on and off campus are available to qualified students recommended by the appropriate department. The stipends vary according to length of the period of employment and the number of hours worked. The full stipend for 12 months is $4,800. In addition to the stipend, the assistant receives a waiver of tuition for regular courses. Waivers are prorated according to the terms of the assistantships. Graduate assistants are required to provide appropriate work each week during the semesters in which assistantships are in effect. Application forms for assistantships may be obtained from the Graduate School Office. Detailed information may be obtained by writing to the Graduate School Office, or by calling 410-830-4359.

Campus-Based Financial Aid Programs

Financial aid is available to graduate students admitted as degree candidates, who aremaking satisfactory academic progress, fulfilling the eligibility requirements of the program for which they apply, and registering for 6 or more credits a semester. The university receives a limited amount of money each year from the Federal Perkins Student Loan and Federal Work Study programs to assist students. The programs are need-based. To receive consideration, a student must file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or a renewal application. All application materials must be received in the Financial Aid office by March 15 for the following academic year for first consideration. Students may apply as early as January 1. (This form should be mailed by January 30 to allow sufficient time for processing.) More detailed information on financial aid programs and eligibility requirements is available upon request from the Financial Aid Office.

The Federal Perkins Loan Program

If the student is eligible and funds are available, a student may borrow from this program at 5 percent interest. No interest is due as long as the student registers at least half time. When a student drops out, drops below half time or graduates, the grace period commences. Interest begins to accrue at the end of the grace period. See promissory note for length of grace period.

Federal Work Study Program (FWS)

If the student is eligible and funds are available, FWS allows a student to work on or off campus. All Federal Work Study jobs must be cleared through the Financial Aid Office. A FWS eligibility is the maximum amount that a student may earn. It is the responsibility of the student to find a FWS job and to monitor earnings so as to avoid exceeding FWS eligibility.

Federal Direct Student Loan Program

The eligibility requirements for a subsidized loan from this program are the same as for the campus-based programs. If you do not qualify for a subsidized federal direct student loan, you may borrow from this program and receive an unsubsidized loan.

With a subsidized Federal Direct Loan, no interest is charged and no repayment is required until six months after you cease to be enrolled on at least a half-time basis. If you borrow from this loan program and receive an unsubsidized loan, interest will accrue while you are in school, and during grace periods. The principal is not due until six months after you cease to be enrolled on at least a half-time basis.

For new borrowers, the interest rate is variable based on the 91-day Treasury bill rates for a 12-month period.

Your actual payment amount will depend upon the total amount you borrow. The more you borrow, the higher your monthly payments will be. Repayment schedules and options are available from the Financial Aid Office. You may repay the entire loan or any portion of it at any time without penalty.

Graduate students may borrow up to $18,500 a year, up to a maximum of $138,500, including any loans made at the undergraduate level.

A student may never borrow more than the cost of education, less other aid received for the academic period. Graduate students must take a minimum of six (6) graduate level courses a semester to borrow at the graduate level. If you are taking less than 6 graduate credits a semester you will borrow at the undergraduate level.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Eligibility for Graduation

Students must complete all program prerequisites, as well as all required and elective master's degree courses with a minimum average of 3.0 in all graduate work taken at Towson University as well as 3.0 in all courses included in the program of study. If the application is submitted late, graduation is postponed until the next graduation date. All graduation requirements, including resolution of incomplete grades and acceptance of the completed thesis (if a thesis is undertaken), must be completed by the last day of the semester in which the student is applying for graduation. If the student does not complete requirements for graduation, the application must be resubmitted during the semester in which graduation is intended.

Thesis Procedure

Students intending to write a thesis should obtain the manual Guidelines for Preparing the Master's Degree Thesis from their program director or from the Graduate School Office. The manual is also available on the Graduate School Web site at www.towson.edu/grad/gthesis.html. Students registering for thesis credit must have a special permission form from the Graduate School.

Time Limitation for Completion of Degree Requirements

All requirements for the master's degree must be completed within a seven-year period.

Upper-Division Courses

A maximum of 9 semester hours of upperdivision courses (500 level) may be included toward a master's degree.

Grades of C

A maximum of 6 semester hours of C grades are allowed for graduation.

Courses Taken as a Non-Degree Student

A limit of 12 semester hours may be used in a program if taken by non-degree students who later apply for degree status.

OTHER ACADEMIC POLICIES

Towson University Policies

Privacy Rights of Parents and Students

Towson University is in compliance with Section 513 (protection of the rights and privacy of parents and students) and Section 514 (protection of pupil rights) of Title V - Education Administration of the Education Amendments of 1974. University policies on this issue are spelled out in detail in Appendix B.

Nondiscrimination in Education and Employment

Towson University is in compliance with Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Titles VII and VIII of the Public Health Service Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 303 of the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, Executive Order 11246/11375 and Article 64A (the Governor's Code of Fair Practices). In accordance with these laws, the university does not discriminate against any individual for reasons of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, political affiliation, marital status or condition of handicap in the admission of students, educational programs and activities, hiring of faculty or staff, or any terms and conditions of employment. The university is also in compliance with federal regulations regarding prohibition of discrimination on the basis of veteran status. Information on these laws and copies of the Affirmative Action Plan of Towson University are available from the Affirmative Action officer.

Maintenance and Disposition of Records

Students who do not register within one year of admission must submit new admission credentials and application data if they subsequently take courses.

All student records, including academic records from other institutions, are part of the official file, and are retained subject to stated policies. They cannot be returned or duplicated for any purpose. Students should obtain their own copies of official credentials for advisory purposes and other personal uses.

Confidentiality of Records

In keeping with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, Towson University respects the confidential relationship between the university and its students by preserving, to the maximum extent possible, the privacy of all records relating to its students. Records are kept only on matters relevant to the academic admission process and to the student's progress toward a degree. The records will not be disclosed except upon student's written request or with his or her written consent, under legal compulsion, or in carefully circumscribed instances based on clearly defined policies of Towson University (see Appendix B).

Substance Abuse Policy

Each student is expected to read and abide by the policies and regulations of Towson University concerning drug and alcohol abuse. The Substance Abuse Policy is found in Appendix E.

Graduate School Policies

Student Responsibility

It is the responsibility of the student to become knowledgeable of, and to observe, all university policies, regulations and procedures. In no case will a waiver of requirements or an exception be granted because a student pleads ignorance of policy or regulation or asserts that he/she was not informed of a specific requirement by an adviser or other university authority. The student should become especially familiar with: (1) the regulations in this catalog, (2) the section presenting requirements for the degree sought, and (3) the offerings and requirements of the student's major department.

Policy for graduate study, as stated in this catalog, is in effect for all students admitted to a program for the 1999-2000 academic year, and is that under which the student operates through the term of his or her study toward completion of degree requirements (subject to the disclaimer in the next paragraph).

While the provisions of this catalog will ordinarily be applied as stated, the catalog and the information contained herein do not constitute a contract. Towson University reserves the right to change any provision listed in this catalog, including, but not limited to, academic requirements for graduation, without actual notice to individual students. Every effort will be made to keep students advised of any such changes. Information on changes will be available from advisers and in the dean's office. It is especially important to note that it is the individual student's responsibility to keep apprised of current graduation requirements for his/her particular degree program.

Academic Integrity

Students are expected to maintain a high standard of academic integrity. Inappropriate classroom conduct, cheating and plagiarism may result in disciplinary action by the Graduate Studies Committee.

Instructors are responsible for maintaining the academic integrity of courses, and will initially handle problems of classroom conduct, cheating and plagiarism in a discussion with the student. Unauthorized assistance in preparing materials submitted as original work by the student constitutes a violation of academic integrity and results in action being taken. The instructor may lower the student's grade or give a failing grade for the course. If the instructor decides that further action is warranted, he or she will notify the student that a formal charge will be made to the Graduate Studies Committee. A written report of the incident will be filed with the committee.

The committee will review the facts of the case and make a decision regarding the status of the student. The committee will either absolve the student of the violation or impose a penalty. The penalty may be, but is not limited to, the following: (1) agreement that the lowered course grade is sufficient disciplinary action; (2) mandatory suspension from taking courses for graduate credit for a designated period of time; or (3) dismissal from Graduate School.

Academic Standards, Appeals, Hearings and Grievances

Matters of graduate academic standards are the responsibility of the Graduate Studies Committee. Appeals related to academic matters should be made to this committee by writing in care of the Graduate School dean.

Graduate School policy on procedures for appeals, hearings and grievances is found in Appendix F of this catalog.

In all cases involving disciplinary action, or other charges, procedures of due process are followed. Additional information may be found under the headings of "Graduate Studies Committee" and "Academic Integrity."

Exceptions to Academic Policies, Regulations or Requirements

Exceptions to academic policies, regulations or requirements, as stated in this catalog or elsewhere, are rarely made, and then only for truly extenuating circumstances. A student who believes an exception is justified may petition the associate dean of the Graduate School. The request must state the specific exception being requested and the reasons for the request. For degree students, the program director must countersign the request, indicating his or her recommendation. In cases that involve faculty in addition to the program director, the coordinator forwards the request to the appropriate faculty member(s) for additional written recommendation. The signed request is then forwarded by the program director to the associate dean of the Graduate School, Non-degree students must petition the associate dean directly.

THE COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Towson University has a distinguished history in the preparation of classroom teachers and education specialists. As the first teachertraining institution in Maryland, Towson University has been preparing men and women for teaching careers for 130 years. Programs of study within the College of Education lead to the baccalaureate degree in education with certification in early childhood education, elementary education and special education. In addition, the college offers programs that lead to certification in secondary education and K-12 education, for those students enrolled in other colleges of the university. Programs at the graduate level lead to master's degrees in early childhood education, elementary education, secondary education, instructional technology, reading, and teaching, as well as certification in administration and supervision.

Programs of study within the college are constantly assessed and reorganized in order to provide students with three essentials for professional success: 1) a challenging general education in a variety of disciplines; 2) in-depth content knowledge in the field of teaching specialization; and 3) a professional education based upon current research and models of best practice.

The teaching faculty in the college are dedicated to providing a background in research on learning and methods of instruction which prepare teachers and education specialists as facilitators of active learning. To promote this goal, the faculty is committed to active participation in the academic community as teachers, scholars and advisers. They use methods of instruction which emphasize active student learning through the integration of content knowledge with the study and practice of effective pedagogy.

The Master of Education in Early Childhood Education is structured to help teachers and others increase their competence in working with children from birth through age eight. It is an advanced degree program designed to prepare the degree candidate for a future professional role, to increase competence in a current career role, or to provide a step toward further study in the field of early childhood education. It is not an initial teaching certification or licensure program, but an opportunity for increased professional development at the graduate level. The program emphasizes a foundation of the most current knowledge base in early childhood and best practice for all young children and families.

The Master of Education in Early Child-hood Education is recommended for practitioners in a wide range of programs for children from birth through age eight. These roles may include administration, supervision, and mentoring in early childhood programs; pre-elementary or primary grade teaching; family/community support; resource and referral; program licensing; infants and toddler programming; and others.

The 33-credit program includes both required and elective courses, and is designed to provide each student with a deeper understanding of the knowledge base in the field, while supporting individual areas of professional specialization and academic interest. The Early Childhood faculty have developed specific courses to support students in their professional development and in their future contributions to the field of early childhood education.

INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY

Degree: Master of Science Program Director: Dr. David Wizer 410-830-6268 wizer@towson.edu

The Instructional Technology program in the College of Education at Towson University is an applied professional program that helps to educate leaders in three technology fields: training and development; school library media; and educational computing and media.

The Instructional Technology graduate program is intended for both current professionals in the field of media, design, computing, education and libraries as well as those who are seeking advanced degrees and an upgrade in their skills and knowledge base related to technology. The program is hands-on and practical with a considerable focus of most courses being inventive and authentic learning projects.

Students select one of three options. The first, instructional design and development, offers a flexible program of study designed to develop competencies in instructional design and media-related competencies for those who wish to work in training or instructional settings in business, industry, government, military or medical education. The second, school library media, meets the Maryland State Department of Education requirements for the Media Generalist Certification and is designed for students who wish to serve as directors of school library centers. The third, educational technology, is designed for those who wish to integrate technology into classroom teaching or to coordinate the planning and integration of educational technologies at the school, district or state level.

The program is most often completed by students on a part-time basis, although full-time study is encouraged. A majority of the graduate students in the Instructional Technology program are full-time working professionals who take classes in the late afternoon or early evening. Professionals seeking to advance or change careers comprise a substantial portion of the student population in the Instructional Technology program. These include students who intend to become school library media specialists; industry training specialists; and leaders in educational computing and technology.

READING

Degree: Master of Education Program Director: A. Karen Blair 410-830-2348 kblair@towson.edu

The Master of Education Reading Program is designed to prepare reading specialists, primarily for K-12 education, but also for community colleges, industry, adult education programs, commercial education centers, and private practice. The 33-credit hour program is highly structured with eight required courses and three electives. It is developmental in design. Students grow in both their knowledge and application as they proceed through the program.

The Graduate Reading Program at Towson University does not subscribe to a particular position on reading. It closely reflects the broad, comprehensive knowledge and skills outlined in the 1998 Standards for Reading Professionals developed by the International Reading Association.

The goal of the Master of Education Reading Program is to prepare reading specialists who have a dynamic understanding of the reading process and who have a wide array of resources for enhancing literacy for all learners

The program is designed to prepare the degree candidate to:

- Provide specialized literacy instruction and assessment, in cooperation with other professionals, to students at all levels.
- 2. Provide literacy services to students in compensatory or special education programs.
- 3. Communicate with parents and the community about literacy issues.
- 4. Provide instructional guidance to paraprofessionals.
- Conduct inservice workshops on literacy topics.
- 6. Read and interpret literacy research.
- Continue to grow professionally by reading professional journals and by participating in reading conferences and workshops.

The Master of Education Reading Program is grounded in five philosophical beliefs:

- 1. Literacy learning involves not only reading, but writing, listening, speaking, and viewing.
- 2. Literacy instruction must be research-based and therefore requires reading specialists to be competent in interpreting and applying research findings.
- 3. Literacy instruction must be responsive to the individual differences among learners.
- 4. Literacy instruction must be inclusive and celebrate the diversity of learners.
- Literacy instruction and assessment must be closely connected so that instruction is developed, monitored, and modified using multiple sources of assessment data.

The Master of Education Reading Program can be completed full or part time. Most courses are offered in the early evening (e.g. 4:20-6:50 p.m.) one night a week. All eight required courses are offered both fall and spring semesters and many are offered during the summer.

Admission Requirements

Candidates for admission to the Master of Education Reading Program must meet the criterion for admission to all graduate programs at the university: a 3.0 GPA for the last 60 credits of the bachelor's degree. Students can be admitted conditionally to the Master of Education Reading Program with a 2.75 GPA. Those admitted conditionally must receive an A or B in the first three REED courses they take in the program. Candidates who completed their bachelor's degree more than 10 years ago with less than a 3.0 can be admitted to the program by documenting five years of successful work experience.

Candidates in the M.Ed. Reading Program are not required to have or be eligible for a teaching certificate. This is to allow individuals interested in careers that do not require a state teaching certification (e.g. community college developmental reading) to pursue the degree. It is, however, important to understand that completing the M.Ed. in Reading does not carry automatic state certification. Maryland State certification for reading specialist has three requirements:

- Eligibility for teacher certification in early childhood, elementary, secondary or special education.
- Three years of classroom teaching experience.
- 3. An M.Ed. in Reading from an approved program (e.g. Towson University's) or a master's equivalency.

In addition to working with one client, the students enrolled in the advanced internship are responsible for providing weekly parent and paraprofessional workshops on a variety of topics as well as serving as coaches for the paraprofessionals.

sstein@towson.edu

The Master of Fine Arts degree at Towson University is designed to meet the needs of those who wish to pursue the study of art, either for a career as an artist, or as a college-level instructor. The program consists of professional study in either painting, photography, graphic design, illustration, sculpture, printmaking, ceramics, jewelry, or interrelated media. The art department fosters an M.F.A. program that draws from all aspects of a diverse and comprehensive curriculum. M.F.A. students study within a specific concentration while also being able to choose from a wide variety of learning experiences. The conceptual and ideological bases for artistic endeavors are explored through art history, graduate seminars and weekly critiques. The goals of the M.F.A. program are to direct the M.F.A. student to explore, focus and excel. Through conceptual and ideological dialogue, as well as the availability of technical expertise, the M.F.A. student at Towson is directed towards thematic consistency. MASS COMMUNICATION

Degree: Master of Arts Program Director: Greg Faller 410-830-3755 gfaller@towson.edu www.towson.edu/~faller

The Master of Arts in Mass Communication focuses on the study of human communication and mass media. The program seeks to foster oral, visual and written communication abilities; improve critical thinking; develop an understanding of human message exchanges, and analyze how mass media influence our social, political, artistic and cultural existence.

The Master of Arts in Mass Communication strives to further the communication skills of individuals in media-related fields. The program serves two kinds of advanced students: those seeking to build career-oriented qualifications, and those who intend to pursue advanced studies.

Students have the opportunity to study theory, criticism and research methods, and to enhance professional skills appropriate to their career goals.

CERTIFICATE OF MUSIC

Program Director: Michael Jothen 410-830-2257

miothen@towson.edu

The Certificate of Music Program provides comprehensive training for a music education specialist in an area of professional interest and/or need. In consultation with the program director in music education and an appropriate faculty adviser, a sequence of courses and experiences totaling 15 to 21 hours are identified which help music educators to understand the rationale and curricula associated with their chosen interest. A sequence of instruction provides core experiences, supporting experiences, elective opportunities, and a culminating experience appropriate to the area of interest. The program is designed to assist music educators in securing focused, advanced study in a personal area of choice. The certificate may be earned separately from, or in conjunction with, the Master of Science Degree in Music Education.

Examples of core areas of study within the Certificate of Music Program include The Application of Dalcroze, Orff and Kodaly, Community Music, Music Therapy, Conducting (instrumental and vocal), Studio Pedagogy, and Music Industry.

Admission Requirement

A baccalaureate degree with a major in music education or certification as a public school music teacher.

Certificate Requirements

Students must complete 15 to 21 semester hours of course work with a culminating application experience in their core area of interest.

THEATRE

Degree: Master of Fine Arts Program Directors: Juanita Rockwell, Ralph Blasting 410-830-3851 jrockwell@towson.edu rblasting@towson.edu

The Towson University Master of Fine Arts in Theatre is dedicated to creating a fluid, alternative environment for the training of the total theatre maker. The program is designed as an experimental, self-directed process that will challenge, expand and develop each participant's artistic vision. This vision is explored in terms of its structural, aesthetic and cultural context, as well as its skillful application of craft. Intercultural, interdisciplinary and collaborative, Towson's MFA in Theatre is for artists who cannot be content working in a single discipline or in the traditional conservatory model. They want to construct the soundscape that interacts with the spoken text they've written. They want to build the puppets as well as train the performers they're directing. They want to perform the text themselves, illuminated by their own lighting design. They want to create the installation in which they will perform.

Students accepted into this program have already begun to articulate a creative vision, but have decided to return to graduate school to both expand and refine that vision. We seek artists who would feel restricted by a conservatory style program. Whether directing, designing, performing, producing, constructing or writing, the student/artist must be willing to work both independently and collaboratively. The program is based on the cross-fertilization of ideas among participants and the thoughtful implementation of human, material, economic and environmental resources. The program requires that its participants create their own opportunities, work in a variety of disciplines, and serve as self-producing artists.

Seminars and workshops with distinguished visiting artists play a major role in the foundation of the curriculum. Guest artists expose the student-artist to a wide range of theatrical styles and methods, emphasizing their cultural context and underlying principles. Guests may facilitate a master class for one or more days, lecture or demonstrate as part of a required class, or work in extended residency with the students of the program. While individuals will most likely have different experiences during their time in the program, there is a basic structure we suggest. Of the 60 credits required for graduation, 43 credits consist of the program's core courses. We encourage students to emphasize the core curriculum during the first two years, so as to leave the third year open to emphasize their final projects. During the first year of the program, student-artists are encouraged to explore their own artistic vision and the aesthetic of those around them - fellow students, guest artists, people focusing on other disciplines - both within the university and beyond. In the second year, student-artists continue to seek out opportunities to collaborate on projects of others, while developing their own projects. Finally, in the third year, the student-artist seeks out collaborators to work on projects under their own development.

All graduate students approach projects from an interdisciplinary perspective, and each student works in a variety of disciplines. New work may be created in a variety of forms, such as interdisciplinary constructions or installations, ensemble creation, performance art, movement-theatre, or productions of new scripts. Transformations of existing literature may involve reconstructing classic text or design elements, historical reinterpretation, or the integration of intercultural aesthetics. In directing and design, special attention is given to the collaborative creation of style. In text construction, special attention is given to innovative language and structure. In dramaturgy, special attention is given to aesthetic and cultural context. In technical production, special attention is given to safely integrating new technology, practices, and materials. In performance, special attention is given to the integration of voice and movement as an expression of style. The student-artist is urged to combine disciplines within a given project, perhaps working as director/designer, technician/designer, or writer/performer.

Towson's graduate students may not have been trained in theatre as their first art form. They may have been working as sculptors, filmmakers, choreographers, or poets. They may have been trained in theatre but are dissatisfied with what the industry offers and are looking for new questions to ask of themselves and their audience. They're reframing old questions in the light of a new relationship with their audiences and communities. They have begun to see what theatre can be (and what it is becoming) in the work of contemporary artists who are testing our assumptions about performance. Towson's program is fluid, in that it evolves and changes to allow room for discovery as these each of these challenges are met.

Towson's Graduate Theatre Program is a laboratory for testing these questions and exploring the possibilities they generate.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher based on the applicant's last 60 hours of undergraduate work. Candidates with a minimum GPA of 2.5 may be eligible for admission at the discretion of the M.F.A. program directors and the Graduate School. All matriculated students are accepted conditionally for one year. At the end of the third semester of study, there will be a review process in which a student is either fully accepted or denied continuance.

Candidates are screened by both the M.F.A. program and by the Graduate School. The following should be submitted directly to the Graduate School no later than March 1:

- 1. A Graduate School application with required fee.
- 2. A current professional resume.
- 3. Three letters of recommendation from individuals who can speak to the applicant's talent, scholarship, collaborative skills, and ability to thrive in a self-directed program.
- 4. A list of at least three other references, with telephone numbers, which the department may contact for additional evaluations.
- 5. Official transcripts from every college or university attended.

The following are required as part of the department screening process and should be sent to the M.F.A. program directors directly, no later than March 1:

- 1. A personal artistic statement outlining the candidate's goals as a theatre artist and the specific relevance of the M.F.A. program at Towson to the candidate's objectives.
- 2. A current professional resume.
- 3. Slides, photographs, video, reviews, papers or other supporting materials in multiple artistic disciplines.

An interview with an audition and/or preliminary portfolio review will be granted at the discretion of M.F.A. faculty following initial admission screening. A list of suggested materials can be obtained from the program directors.

COLLEGE OF HEALTH PROFESSIONS

Each of the programs in the College of Health Professions provides students with a rigorous grounding in the liberal arts and sciences, which is essential as a foundation for specialized study. Students are prepared to assume roles in a variety of clinical, teaching and community settings.

Society places great value on health. The college accepts as its philosophical foundation the belief in the worth and dignity of individuals and their right to fulfill their potential in life. Preservation or restoration of the individual's dignity through health then becomes the basic tenet of the programs of the college. The programs promote the attainment of the highest level of wellness possible in the patients and clients that are served. Graduates of the college are committed to service to the public in maintaining wellness and to those whose well-being is threatened or altered by illness, injury or natural processes.

The graduate programs in the college are accredited by appropriate professional and educational accrediting agencies, thus enabling the successful graduate to sit for her or his professional licensure or certification exam where those credentialing mechanisms exist. A number of courses in some of the programs are available to students enrolled in other graduate programs.

HEALTH SCIENCE

Degree: Master of Science Program Director: Susan Radius 410-830-4216 sradius@towson.edu

The master's program in Health Science is designed to meet needs within the state of Maryland for graduate-trained health professionals to work in educational, medical care, community and work-site settings. The program is intended for people with classroom or work experience in the health sciences or related fields. It is particularly well-suited to people who have been in the work force and now wish to receive additional education to enhance their performance as well as their competitiveness on the job.

Students may select from three concentrations: Community Health Education, School Health Education or Health Science Administration.

A graduate of the community health education concentration may pursue a career as a health education specialist in a variety of public and private sector agencies. Students holding current credentials in pharmacy, nursing, dentistry, dietetics and other professions may wish to combine their skills from prior training, and redirect their careers toward community health education related to their specific prior training. A graduate of the school health education concentration can consider such employment opportunities as classroom health teacher, supervisor of a health science program within a school system, health education media specialist, program evaluation specialist, or a position within continuing education and school personnel departments. A graduate of the administration concentration is prepared for positions in a variety of settings (voluntary, proprietary, governmental, school, community, etc.) that require sound backgrounds in health and administration.

The distinctiveness of the master's program in Health Science is its emphasis in pragmatic applications derived from theory. The program is based on the core approach of proving a sound academic base in principles of education and training, research and behavioral sciences. While students register for graduate work within the Department of Health Science, support cores from this or other university departments can be selected to contribute toward their individual professional goals. In addition, with permission of the program director, students may transfer up to 9 graduate credits earned in other academic settings to their master's program of study.

Students may elect to pursue a graduate project or thesis, if either activity is consistent with their professional goals.

The master's program in Health Science is designed to accommodate the needs of students whose personal and professional lives restrict their ability to enroll in a full-time, traditional graduate program. Students are overwhelmingly part-time, participating in courses which are offered only during week-day evenings throughout the year. Individuals desiring full-time graduate status may be able to construct programs responsive to their needs. However, the department cannot promise that full-time coursework will be possible within any given semester or academic year.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the master's program in Health Science requires an undergraduate degree in a health science field (e.g., nursing, health education, psychology, etc.) OR substantial upper-division coursework in those fields, OR experience in those same areas (as determined by the Program Director). In addition, applicants must maintain a minimum GPA of 2.75 to be conditionally admitted to the master's program; full admission is granted to students whose GPA is at least 3.0.

Degree Requirements

The master's program in Health Science requires successful completion of 36 credits. For students in School Health Education, 15 credits are identified for the student by the Health Science Department, with the remainder derived from elective offerings; in Community Health Education, 18 credits are stipulated by the department; and for those enrolled in the Administration concentration, 12 credits constitute mandatory enrollment. In addition, all students must complete a three-course requirement (HLTH 639, 615 and a third course selected with advisement) with a GPA of 3.0 in their first attempt at these courses. Students who earn one C among those three courses must register for and receive no less than a B in HLTH 691, to remain in the Health Science master's program.

SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY

Degree: Master of Science Program Director: Julie E. Ries 410-830-3105 jries@towson.edu

The Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Program is accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation (CAA) of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association and the Maryland State Department of Education. The program provides the student with (1) study of normal communication processes; (2) an in-depth investigation of communication disorders; (3) development of therapeutic goals, procedures and materials; (4) and extensive clinical experience in on- and off-campus settings. The program is designed to enable preprofessionals in the field, i.e., those with a bachelor's degree or the equivalent in speechlanguage pathology and audiology, to meet the academic and clinical practicum requirements of national and state accrediting, certifying and licensing bodies.

Students elect to specialize in either speech-language pathology or audiology. Applicants indicate their area of emphasis on the application form. The degree will prepare the individual for national/state certification and state licensure for employment in public school, clinical or hospital settings, or private practice and to pursue advanced degrees. All clinical practicum clock-hour requirements of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) and the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders must be completed before the M.S. degree is awarded.

Academic courses are offered in the late afternoons and evenings and clinical practica are provided during the day in the fall and spring semesters. There are some opportunities for clinical practicum experiences and academic course work during the summer sessions.

The Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders faculty recognizes a special responsibility to the profession to ensure that graduates of master's degree programs demonstrate attitudes and behaviors consistent with the standards of the profession. In keeping with this responsibility, faculty members may recommend to the program director that a student should be disciplined (including dismissal) for exhibiting behavior deemed to be inconsistent with the standards of the profession. Nonprofessional behaviors include dishonesty, unethical conduct, deficient professional/clinical skills, or other behaviors construed by the faculty as counter productive to the field. Recommendations for disciplinary action will be made by a faculty committee consisting of the program director and the appropriate graduate faculty. The recommendation for disciplinary action will be reviewed and acted upon by the faculty of the department and forwarded to the dean of the College of Graduate and Extended Education. The student has the right to due process.

Admission Requirements

1. Bachelor's degree in speech-language pathology and audiology with a minimum of 33 semester hours or 42 quarter hours and a minimum GPA of 3.0 in the major. A minimum of 25 documented hours of clinical observation and one course in clinical practicum is required (students without this course take it as a part of their graduate program, necessitating a 51-semester-hour degree program).

OR

Students without a bachelor's degree in speech-language pathology and audiology must have completed a minimum of 30 semester hours of undergraduate course work in speech-language pathology and audiology; including the following courses or their equivalents. A behavioral statistics course is recommended:

This form may be obtained by calling or writing to the department. Ratings must be submitted only on these forms, filled out completely and according to the instructions. Rating forms will be accepted only if completed by faculty or employers within the profession.
- 3. The American Speech-Language-Hearing Association's minimum requirements for application for Certificate of Clinical Competence includes a minimum of 12 semester hours in basic sciences: biology, physical science and math (6 semester hours) and behavioral/social sciences (6 semester hours). Three semester hours in aural rehabilitation and 3 semester hours in auditory disorders is required in speech-language specialization. Three semester hours each in speech and language courses is required for students in the audiology specialization.
- 4. A behavioral statistics course, or its equivalent, fulfills the math requirement and is highly recommended. Students without these courses will have to take them as part of their graduate program.
- 5. Students are admitted for the fall semester only. Completed application and admission credentials must meet the deadline of February 1. Admission is extended on a spaceavailable basis with 75 percent of spaces allotted for Maryland residents.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

The liberal arts are the core disciplines of the university, those disciplines that study and interpret what it means to be human, both as individuals and as members of groups. Study of the liberal arts frees us to think more clearly, to analyze and interpret information, to weigh points of view, to arrive at informed judgments about complex issues, and to appreciate the rich diversity of human culture.

The College of Liberal Arts is committed to providing comprehensive opportunities for undergraduate and graduate instruction. The liberal arts curriculum helps students develop the ability to analyze and interpret information and opinions objectively, form and express conclusions creatively, express themselves clearly, appreciate the diversity of human culture, and move comfortably in the world of ideas and values. Degree programs in the college emphasize professional career opportunities and interdisciplinary study, as well as more traditional theoretical aspects of the disciplines.

Teaching

While using effective traditional teaching methods, Towson has also been in the fore-front of the development of innovation in instruction. The College of Liberal Arts has an up-to-date language lab and computer classrooms for English, geography, modern languages, psychology and social sciences. The college encourages small classes, an emphasis on writing and personal attention to students. Faculty are in the forefront of curriculum innovation in writing instruction and in infusion of material on cultural diversity.

Scholarship

Commitment to undergraduate education is reflected not only in teaching excellence, but also in the faculty's active involvement in scholarly activity and professional growth, including publications, presentations at professional meetings, and participation in regional, national, and international conferences and workshops. Opportunities also exist for students to become involved in collaborative research with faculty, further developing students' academic and personal growth while providing new avenues for the College of Liberal Arts to meet the challenge of continued excellence in education.

Service

The College of Liberal Arts has the responsibility to serve the metropolitan community in many ways, contributing to its cultural life and social progress. Faculty members provide expertise and information to the community and take active roles in responding to a wide range of social problems. They enrich the cultural environment, offering institutional or community sponsorship. The departments, centers, and institutes of the college develop creative partnerships with public and private enterprises that ensure the intellectual resources of the institution are fully engaged in ways that are mutually beneficial and serve the people of the Baltimore metropolitan area. Within the university, faculty of the college serve on the essential committees, governing bodies and task forces which promote the educational missions of the university.

PSYCHOLOGY

Degree: Master of Arts

Vice-Chair, Graduate Programs in Psychology: Anthony C. DiCesare, Ph.D.

adicesare@towson.edu

The program offers students the opportunity of in-depth specialization in one of four psychological areas. The areas are: clinical psychology, counseling psychology, experimental psychology and school psychology. Each is described below in detail with reference to objectives and requirements. All program prerequisite courses are undergraduate courses.

The psychology department faculty recognizes a special responsibility to the profession of psychology to ensure that all graduates of our program demonstrate attitudes and behavior consistent with the standards of the profession. The faculty of the specialization involved may recommend to the program director disciplinary action for such behavior as dishonesty, unethical conduct, deficient professional/clinical skills or other behaviors construed by the faculty as counterproductive to the field of psychology. Recommendation for disciplinary action will be made by a faculty committee consisting of the program director and the graduate faculty teaching within that concentration. Before disciplinary action is carried out, the decision for such disciplinary action will be reviewed by the Professional Standards Committee of the psychology department.

CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY

Program Director: Barry A. Bass, Ph.D. Telephone: 410-830-3072 babass@rowson.edu

The Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology is designed for students seeking training and experience in the applied professional aspects of clinical psychology. Although a significant number of graduates go on for further graduate study in psychology, the primary focus of the program is the preparation of master's-level psychologists for employment in state and other nonprofit organizations.

Because of the applied professional emphasis, the majority of required clinical courses address the theoretical and practical issues involved in providing direct clinical services. Students take courses in psychotherapy and behavior change, preparing them to practice individual, family, and group intervention techniques. Advanced elective seminars in legal and ethical issues in clinical psychology and cognitive-behavior therapy are offered regularly. Professional courses in psychological testing prepare students to administer and interpret psychometric instruments used to conduct intellectual, neurological, and personality assessments. In keeping with the professional emphasis of the program, all courses are limited to no more than 16 students and are open only to students matriculating in the clinical psychology program.

A unique feature of the program is the requirement for successful completion of a half-time nine-month internship during which students provide supervised psychological services to clients in an off-campus mental health setting. During the internship year, students can specialize by working primarily with adults, families, or children in either an inpatient or outpatient facility. Among the internship placement sites are: community mental health centers and clinics, state psychiatric hospitals, and other psychological service centers.

Students may choose either the thesis or non-thesis option. A minimum of 39 semester hours are required for the degree without the thesis or 42 semester hours with the thesis. Clinical psychology students are encouraged to attend full time so as to complete all program requirements within four semesters. Students may, however, attend part time for some or all of their degree work.

Admission Requirements

- 1. Courses in the following areas:
 - a. General Psychology (3)
 - b. Abnormal Psychology (3)
 - c. Personality (3)
 - d. Behavioral Statistics (3)

SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY

Degree: Certificate of Advanced Study and Master of Arts

Program Director: Susan M. Bartels 410-830-3070

sbartels@towson.edu

The School Psychology Program is one of only two programs in Maryland that trains graduate students to become school psychologists. Students are expected to complete the requirements for the Certificate of Advanced Study (CAS), which is the minimal level of training required to be certified by most State Departments of Education as a school psychologist. Students will also be awarded an M.A. degree during the final year of the program, prior to commencing a full-year internship. Graduates of the program are also qualified for a variety of positions within the field of psychology and for entrance into doctoral programs.

The School Psychology Program trains students to provide consultation to teachers, parents and administrators; to provide direct counseling and intervention to children and adolescents: to complete ecological assessments of classroom environments; and to administer and interpret a variety of psychological tests to assess intellectual functioning, academic achievement, adaptive behavior, and social/emotional characteristics of students. Students are trained to complete multidimensional evaluations that address the specific reason for referral and that are directly linked to recommendations for intervention. The program promotes the use of intervention and assessment techniques that are empirically sound and sensitive to the diverse population of students that school psychologists serve. Students learn and comply with the ethical principles of psychologists and with legislation relevant to children in school environments. Our goal is to produce school psychologists who are wellprepared to function independently in a growing and evolving profession. Curriculum requirements of the program have been developed to be consistent with standards set forth by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP).

The program strives to be sensitive to the needs of working adults who are obtaining advanced degrees, by allowing students to complete the program on a part-time basis and through offering classes during the late afternoon and evening.

Admission Requirements

- 4. A letter of intent indicating why the applicant is interested in pursuing graduate study in school psychology.
- 5. Acceptable performance on the general test of the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). Competency for graduate study can also be evidenced by an earned master's degree in psychology or a clearly related field in lieu of the GRE. The GRE requirement may also be waived for international students who can document at least two years of successful employment at the professional level in school psychology, psychology or a clearly related field.
- Completed application and admission credentials must meet the deadline of February 1 for fall admissions. Applications are not accepted for spring admission.
- 7. The highest-ranking applicants will be required to interview with the faculty of the School Psychology program.

Note for candidates already possessing a master's degree in School Psychology:

ensure that students have the necessary skills to administer psychological tests, prior to beginning their Practicum in Psychodiagnostics.

All CAS candidates are required to submit a professional portfolio during the last semester of their internship. Specific contents and standards for portfolios are provided to students by their advisers. In general, the professional portfolio contains samples of interventions conducted with students and teachers, workshops developed for teachers and parents, various diagnostic reports, and an essay on a selected ethical/legal dilemma. Most materials have been developed as part of course requirements throughout the program. Each student will submit the portfolio to his or her adviser.

APPLIED AND INDUSTRIAL MATHEMATICS

Degree: Master of Science Program Director: Raouf Boules 410-830-3683 rboules@towson.edu

The Master of Science Program provides students with a broad knowledge in applied mathematics, with an emphasis on areas with the highest demand in business and industry. Among the areas stressed in the program are mathematical modeling, numerical computations, operations research, chaotic dynamics, queuing systems and time series analysis. Numerical, computational and algorithmic approaches to problem solving are stressed throughout the program. Graduates of the program will be qualified to work in such fields as operations research, stochastic modeling, and spectral analysis, among many others. Graduates of the program will also be prepared for further work at the doctoral level.

The program also includes a two-semester (6-credit) internship component, a unique feature in the Baltimore area. This internship, which is usually completed in cooperation with one of the mathematics department's established industrial partners, permits students to get vital practical experience working on real problems that are meaningful to business and industry. Another option for fulfilling the internship requirement is to play a leadership role in one of the projects investigated by the department's applied mathematics laboratory. Typically, these projects are sponsored by corporations and government agencies. Students whose careers are in education may, with the approval of the department's Graduate Program Committee, replace the industrial setting of the internship with an educational setting. This will typically entail the development of original course material stressing applied mathematics and using innovative teaching techniques, for example, interactive texts.

The main objectives of the program are: (1) to prepare individuals who are capable of applying advanced mathematical skills to problems in areas of science, business and industry; (2) to develop the students' abilities to integrate, in a meaningful way, the use of technology in their everyday professional practice; (3) to give educators an opportunity to satisfy their in-service requirements and simultaneously enhance their knowledge of technology and enrich their mathematical backgrounds; (4) to supply students with the mathematical competency necessary for advancement to a more professional role in the high-technology sector; (5) to develop students' reasoning and communication skills for improved service to the high-technology sector; (6) to educate students to solve problems, to work in teams and to communicate in an interdisciplinary setting; (7) to familiarize students with the recent advances in applied mathematics such as fractal geometry, chaotic dynamics, wavelets, spectral analysis, operations research and stochastic modeling; (8) to prepare students for further graduate work at the doctoral level in applied mathematics; and (9) to enrich the academic culture by providing opportunities for interaction of mathematical and industrial research. Both full-time and part-time students are encouraged to enroll in the program. Core courses are usually offered in the evening, for the convenience of part-time students.

Admission Requirements

- 1.A baccalaureate degree in mathematics or any other field. The applicant's undergraduate training must have included at least three semesters of calculus, a course in differential equations and a course in linear algebra. Students with any deficiency in their mathematical background may be admitted conditionally if they are willing to correct such deficiency.
- 2. An undergraduate grade point average of 3.0 for full admission, 2.75 for conditional admission, or 2.50 for provisional admission is required.
- 3. For international students whose native language is not English, English competency must be certified by the achievement of a minimum of 500 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL).

Degree Requirements

The student is required to successfully complete a total of ten courses (a minimum of 30 semester hours) as indicated below. A student may transfer up to two graduate-level mathematics courses taken at another institution, provided that the transfer is consistent with the Graduate School policy. Students are required to submit a written technical report and to give an oral presentation based on their internship, to the Graduate Program Committee. BIOLOGY

Degree: Master of Science

Program Director: Donald C. Forester

410-830-2385

dforester@towson.edu

The M.S. program in biology emphasizes coursework and research broadly focused on organismal biology (aspects of the entire organism). The program is designed to help the student develop proficiency in independent thought, inquiry and research. The thesis program provides the necessary background and experience for those who plan further study for their Ph.D., whose employment requires an advanced degree in biology, or who wish to teach in community colleges. The non-thesis program is designed for those who want a broader background in biology, and secondary school teachers who want to extend their knowledge and increase their competence in cultivating the spirit of scientific inquiry through course work and optional research projects.

Greater Baltimore is a center of high technology and biomedical research. In addition, the region's rapid growth and development has stimulated concerns about environmental issues and placed strains on the educational system. As a consequence, graduates with master's level training are sought by research facilities and private laboratories, environmental consulting firms, zoos and aquaria, and public and private secondary schools.

A diverse course offering is available in late afternoons and evenings to accommodate working students. Teaching assistantships are available to support full-time thesis students.

All students complete a mandatory 10-credit core (four courses). Students may use electives to focus on either molecular, cellular and microbiology, or on organismal biology and ecology. Non-thesis students may select a broad-based program of study without a specific focus.

Admission Requirements

- A supplemental application available from the department or the Graduate School office must be filed.
- 2. Graduate Record Examination scores on the general test must be submitted.
- 3. Three letters of recommendation from persons familiar with the student's scientific work and aptitude must be sent to the Graduate School Office. The letters should be submitted by former instructors in the student's undergraduate major or from a current supervisor in the field of biology.
- 4. Interview with the biology graduate program director or the student's assigned graduate adviser upon admission.
- 5. Minimum of 24 semester hours in biology.
- 6. Allied courses in general and organic chemistry and physics.
- 7. Grade point average of 3.0 in biology and 3.0 overall GPA is required for full admission. A 2.75 is required for conditional admission, and a 2.50 for provisional admission.

Degree Requirements

- Completion of a minimum 36 semester hours.
 - a. Master of Science with Thesis (minimum 36 semester hours)

At least 27 semester hours at the 600 and 700 levels. A thesis based on laboratory and/or field research is required. The final examination is an oral defense of the thesis and a written examination in the area of concentration.

COMPUTER SCIENCE

Degree: Master of Science Program Director: Ramesh K. Karne 410-830-3955 rkarne@towson.edu

This program provides a comprehensive approach to advanced study in computer science. It also prepares professionally responsible individuals to be capable of holding a variety of scientific and technical positions in the area of computing applications. Such jobs are found in research and development departments: in federal, state and local government agencies; in manufacturing companies; in computer software development companies; and in companies involved in the development of hardware and software products for application in aerospace, biological, chemical, medical and genetic research environments. Graduates will also be prepared for further work at the doctoral level. The program requires study in at least two of these six areas; software engineering, artificial intelligence, compiler design and theory, database systems design and management, operating systems, and data communications and network management.

The main objectives of the program are: 1) to give students the opportunity to study and attain knowledge in current advanced computer science specialties; 2) to develop student ability to apply current computer science problem-solving methods and tools to realistic research and industry-related problems; 3) to prepare students with tools and knowledge necessary for contributing to the needs of a high technology society through preparation for continued learning; 4) to prepare students for advancement to a more professional role in the high-technology sector; (5) and to prepare students for further graduate work in the area of computer science.

The graduate program also offers a number of certificate programs in specialized areas of computer and information science.

MATHEMATICS EDUCATION

Degree: Master of Science

Program Director: Lawrence Shirley

410-830-3817 lshirlev@towson.edu

The Master of Science in Mathematics Education Program at Towson University provides mathematics teachers with advanced study in mathematics, mathematics education and general education. The program offers teachers additional experience in higher-level mathematics to enhance their teaching with additional depth and breadth of content. At the same time, it strengthens their background in school mathematics curriculum, instructional practices, assessment and technology. It also provides them a relevant way of satisfying their in-service requirements for professional advancement.

The program is open to certified secondary mathematics teachers with a strong mathematics background. Students take required and elective courses in mathematics content, mathematics education, and general areas of education. They may select either a research option or one on educational leadership.

It is expected that graduates of this program will become leaders in mathematics education as master teachers, curriculum developers, mathematics supervisors, and other positions that improve the teaching of mathematics in secondary schools. The special strength of this program is the opportunity to study higher mathematics content without leaving the field of school mathematics. The program was designed with on-the-job teachers in mind, with part-time studies in the evenings and summers available; however, full-time students are also welcomed.

The program consists of 36 credit hours; including 12 hours of required courses in mathematics education and the culture and philosophy of mathematics, 12 hours of electives in mathematics content, and 12 hours of electives in education, three of which may be a mathematics education thesis.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must meet the general requirements for graduate study outlined in the Towson University Graduate Catalog. The applicant must possess current certification for teaching secondary school mathematics. The applicant should have an undergraduate degree (or M.A.T.) in mathematics with a secondary education concentration or the equivalent, with a GPA of at least 3.0. Students with any deficiency in their background in mathematics or education or GPA may be admitted conditionally or provisionally to the program.

Financial Support

Graduate assistantships are available for a limited number of highly qualified full-time students. These provide both tuition and a competitive stipend.

Degree Requirements

The student is required to successfully complete a total of at least 36 semester hours of coursework (with no more than 9 credits below the 600 level), as outlined below.

INTERDISCIPLINARY PROGRAMS

Interdisciplinary programs have become an increasingly important part of Towson University's goal of being a premier metropolitan university. The rise of new interdisciplinary fields and revision of traditional curricula are reflected in the diverse group of programs listed here. These programs enhance the strong liberal arts and sciences core while preparing students for professional and applied fields. They also provide opportunities for new forms of student learning and build on the strengths of the faculty.

As Towson University strives to provide all of its students with the knowledge and skills for entry into the professional world, interdisciplinary programs will continue to expand throughout the curriculum. These programs will also help to create an environment that stimulates commitment to lifelong learning and allows for continued personal growth.

HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

Degree: Master of Science Program Director: Larry Froman 410-830-4685 lfroman@towson.edu

The Master of Science in Human Resource Development (HRD) is an interdisciplinary program designed to provide students with specific knowledge and practical skills within a variety of human resource fields. Focusing on the disciplines of psychology, management, instructional technology, education, and communications, the curriculum is designed to meet the needs of individuals with varied academic backgrounds and professional experience. The program emphasizes the application of theory and research to practical human resource issues within business, education, government and nonprofit organizations.

The HRD program is designed for individuals seeking to enter the human resource field, mid-career professionals seeking opportunities for professional development and career advancement, working adults seeking a career change, and recent undergraduates who wish to pursue graduate study. Applicants do not need prior work experience in human resources to be eligible for admission.

Students may select one of the following two tracks:

Track 1: General

The general track consists of seven required courses and five electives to be chosen from the following areas:

- 1. Training, workforce development and technology.
- 2. Employee Relations.
- 3. Organizational and Career Development.
- 4. Human Resource management.

Graduates of the general track will be prepared to work in a variety of human resource management and development functions including areas such as employee selection, training, employee relations, organizational and career development.

Track 2: Educational Leadership

Students in the educational leadership track must take four of the seven required courses from the general track and eight prescribed courses (see list of courses below).

Graduates of the educational leadership track will be prepared to seek positions as educational administrators. The HRD program is approved by the Maryland State Department of Education for individuals seeking certification as Administrator 1, and who have met the other eligibility requirements for this certification as established by the Maryland State Department of Education.

The program is unique because of its interdisciplinary curriculum, with courses offered primarily through the colleges of liberal arts, education, business and health professions. In addition, students have the opportunity to gain practical experience through internships provided by organizations within the Baltimore metropolitan area.

An internship is optional for students admitted to the General track and required for students admitted to the Educational Leadership track.

The majority of students in the program attend on a part-time basis. Most of the courses are offered in the late afternoon (4:20 - 6:50) and evening (6-8:30 or 7-9:30) with a limited number of courses offered during the day. Also, a limited number of courses are offered during the summer.

Admission Requirements

- 1. No specific undergraduate major is required.
- 2. The minimum GPA required for full admission is 3.0. A 2.75 GPA is required for conditional admission.
- 3. Two letters of recommendation from individuals who can attest to the applicant's academic background, professional experience and/or personal qualities.
- 4. A one-page personal statement in which the applicant discusses his or her reasons for seeking admission to the program and how the program will meet the applicant's professional goals.

LIBERAL AND PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

Degree: Master of Arts Program Director: Paul Miers 410-830-2855 pmiers@towson.edu

The Master of Arts in Liberal and Professional Studies is an interdisciplinary program designed to foster graduate study that crosses traditional academic boundaries and provides a solid intellectual framework within which students can create their own degree plans. The core curriculum of the program focuses on the emerging knowledge and new skills needed to learn and work in a culturally diverse society, increasingly influenced by information technology and complex systems. The degree is particularly well-suited for students who wish to integrate specialized study with a critical understanding of the broader developments and theories transforming their field of endeavor.

In consultation with the program director, entering students construct an individualized plan of study combining core seminars with graduate-level courses selected from liberal and fine arts, social and human sciences, and applied science and technology. Degree plans can be built around traditional academic disciplines or practical study in many areas:

- 1. Digital media and communication
- 2. Information technology and applied systems theory
- 3. Management and administration
- 4. Public policy and regional planning
- 5. Human resources
- 6. Health care
- 7. Education

The program is committed to offering working professionals flexible and convenient ways to gain advanced degrees through collaborative learning, Internet-based course work and independent study.

Admission Requirements

A grade point average of 3.0 (2.75 for conditional admission, 2.50 for provisional admission) is required. Applicants must submit a brief essay discussing reasons for entering the program and how the program will allow the applicant to achieve personal and professional goals.

Degree Requirements

1.Required core (12 semester hours)

- a. LBPS 601 Introduction to Liberal and Professional Studies (3)
- b. A 600/700-level independent study course approved by the program director
- c. An advanced writing course (3)
- d. LBPS 602 Culminating Seminar in Liberal and Professional Studies (3)

The introductory and culminating LBPS courses must be completed with a grade of A or B in each. The courses may be repeated once for the purpose of grade change.

2. Elective Core (24 semester hours)

Elective courses must be approved by the program director and should be taken from at least three disciplines with a maximum of 15 hours in any one discipline. No more than three 500-level graduate courses can be counted toward a degree. Twelve semester hours of the elective core must be completed at Towson University. WOMEN'S STUDIES

Degree: Master of Science Program Director: Esther Wangari 410-830-2580 ewangari@towson.edu

The Master of Science in Women's Studies is an Interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary program that provides students with both a basic groundwork in the field of women's studies and a combination of skills that can be used in diverse fields and across disciplines. Graduates of the program will have the academic preparation to pursue careers in a variety of public and private organizations. They will be prepared to adapt to changing environments in business, health professions and non-profit organizations in a regional, national, or international context.

The program is organized around a required core of women's studies theory courses, skills courses (to provide a methodological base of communication, research and computer skills), and a concentration selected by the student. Students may select a concentration from one of four areas: women and gender in the workplace, women and health (with three options), women in an international context, and women and public policy. Each concentration will include a required WMST 6XX course.

A graduate adviser from the Women's Studies Program will be assigned to each student. After the completion of the core program and in consultation with their graduate advisers, students will construct an advanced and individually tailored program of study in one of the four concentrations listed above. Students who wish to enhance their course work with practical experience may take the internship course.

Admission Requirements

- 1. A bachelor's degree with an undergraduate grade point average of 3.0 is required.

The Albert S. Cook Library, located near the center of campus, serves as the hub of print, media and electronic information resources for the university. The collection of approximately 700,000 book and non-book items and over 2,200 periodical subscriptions has been selected to support the university's curriculum. The library is a depository for Maryland state documents. Its scholarly collections include educational resource documents (ERIC microfiche), a collection of early English literature, a strong women's studies collection, and a microfilm set of early American periodicals. These materials are accessed through an integrated online catalog which displays not only the holdings of Towson but also the collections of other libraries in the University System of Maryland. A cooperative borrowing and delivery agreement with other USM libraries allows students to request books from other libraries. Electronic databases in business, literature, nursing and allied health, psychology, sociology and many interdisciplinary subject areas are available to Towson University students through the World Wide Web. Some of these databases include full text of journal articles. Journal articles not available in the Cook Library may be requested for delivery.

Appendix B

THE FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 is a federal law which provides that the institution must maintain the confidentiality of student education records. This law states (a) that a written institutional policy must be established and (b) that a statement of adopted procedures covering the privacy rights of students be made available. The university has taken the appropriate steps to comply with this law.

Towson University accords all the right under the law to students who have reached the age of majority. Information may be released to parents who have established the students' dependency as defined by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, Section 152. The Office of Judicial Affairs will review the parent's claim of dependency and notify the student of the claim prior to release of any academic information. Except as permitted under the act, no one outside the institution shall have access to any information from the students' education records without the written consent of students. Those people permitted access under the act include personnel within the institution, officials of other institutions in which students seek to enroll, persons or organizations providing financial aid, accrediting agencies, persons in compliance with a judicial order and persons in an emergency acting in order to protect the health or safety of others.

Within the Towson University community, only those individuals acting in the students' educational interest are allowed access to student education records. This includes personnel in the offices of the registrar, comptroller, financial aid, and other academic personnel within the limitations of their need to know. The registrar may grant access to educational records for other legitimate reasons permitted under the act.

The university may provide directory information in accordance with the provisions of the act without the written consent of the student. Directory information includes: student name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, major field of study, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, the most recent previous educational institution attended by the student, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, and the weight and height of members of athletic teams. The Registrar's Office will release directory information at its discretion and may release directory information over the telephone or in writing. Students may withhold directory information by notifying the registrar in writing within two weeks after the first day of class.

A request for non-disclosure will be honored for only one academic year; therefore, authorization to withhold directory information must be filed annually with the registrar.

The law provides students with the right to inspect and review information contained in their education records. The Registrar at Towson University has been designated to coordinate the inspection and review of student education records. These records include admissions, personal, academic and financial files. Students wishing to review their education records must make written requests to the registrar. Records covered by the act will be made available within 30 days of the request. Students may have copies made of their records with certain exceptions (e.g., a copy of the original or source document which exists elsewhere) or when the student has an outstanding financial obligation to the university. These copies would be made at the students' expense. Education records do not necessarily include records of instructional, administrative, and educational personnel which are the sole possession of the maker. Health records will not be released to the students, but may be reviewed by physicians of the students' choosing.

As stated in the act, students may not inspect and review the following: financial information submitted by their parents, confidential letters and recommendations associated with admissions, employment or job placement or honors to which they have waived their rights of inspection and review. Educational records containing information about more than one student are restricted and the institution will permit access only to that part of the record which pertains to the student. The institution will not permit students to inspect and review confidential letters and recommendations placed in their files prior to January 1, 1975.

The university has established an appeal mechanism in accordance with the act. Students who believe that their education records contain information that is inaccurate or misleading, or unlawful may discuss their problems informally with the registrar. The registrar may agree to the request and the appropriate records will be amended. If not, the students will be notified that the records will not be amended; and they will be informed by the registrar of their right to a formal hearing, Requests for formal hearings must be made in writing to the vice president for academic affairs. The vice president will inform students of the date, place and time of the hearing. Students may present evidence and may be assisted or represented at the hearings by counsel. The hearing panels which will adjudicate such challenges will be comprised of the vice president for academic affairs, the vice president for student affairs, the graduate dean and the academic dean of the student's college. Decisions of the hearing panels will be final. The finding will be based solely on the evidence presented at the hearing, and will consist of written statements summarizing the evidence and stating the reasons for the decisions, and will be delivered to all parties concerned. The education records will be corrected or amended in accordance with the decisions of the hearing panels. Students dissatisfied with the outcome of their hearing may prepare a written statement which will be placed in the education records and maintained as part of the students' records.

Those students who believe that the adjudications of the challenges were unfair, or not in keeping with the provisions of the act may request that the hearing be reviewed by the president of the university. In addition, students who believe that their rights have been abridged, may file complaints, with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy act Office (FERPA), Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C. 20201, concerning the alleged failures of Towson University to comply with the Act. Revisions and clarifications will be published as experience with the law and institution's policy warrants.

Appendix C

UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF MARYLAND POLICY FOR STUDENT RESIDENCY CLASSIFICATION FOR ADMISSION, TUITION AND CHARGE-DIFFERENTIAL PURPOSES

(Approved by the Board of Regents August 28, 1990; Amended July 10, 1998)

I. POLICY

It is the policy of the Board of Regents of the University System of Maryland to recognize the categories of in-state and out-of-state students for the purposes of admission, tuition, and charge differentials at those constituent institutions where such differentiation has been established. The student is responsible providing the information necessary to establish eligibility for in-state resident status.

Students who are financially independent or financially dependent, as defined herein, shall have their residency classification determined on the basis of permanent residency which for purposes of this policy shall be determined by the criteria set forth in I. A. through E. below. A student will be assigned in-state status for admission, tuition, and charge differential purposes only if the student, or in the case of a financially dependent student, the student's parent, guardian, or spouse, fulfills all of the following.

- A.FOR AT LEAST TWELVE CONSECUTIVE MONTHS immediately prior to and including the last date available to register for courses in the semester/term for which the petition applies, the student, or if the student is financially dependent, the parent, guardian, or spouse MUST:
 - own and continuously occupy or rent and continuously occupy living quarters in Maryland. There must exist a genuine deed or lease in the individual's name reflecting payments/rents and terms typical of those in the community at the time executed. Persons not having such a lease may submit an affidavit reflecting payments/rents and terms as well as the name

- and address of the person to whom payments are made which may be considered as meeting this condition. As an alternative to ownership or rental of living quarters in Maryland, a student may share living quarters in Maryland which are owned or rented and occupied by a parent, legal guardian, or spouse;
- 2. maintain within Maryland substantially all personal property;
- pay Maryland income taxes on all earned taxable income, including all taxable income earned outside the state:
- 4. receive no public assistance from a state other than the State of Maryland or from a city, county, or municipal agency other than one in Maryland;
- have a legal ability under federal and Maryland law to reside permanently in Maryland without interruption.
- B. For at least eleven consecutive months immediately prior to and including the last date available to register for courses in the semester for which the application applies, the student, or if the student is financially dependent, the parent, guardian, or spouse must:
 - Register all owned motor vehicles in Marland; and
 - Obtain a valid driver's license issued by the State of Maryland, if licensed to drive in any other jurisdiction.
- C. Within the twelve consecutive months immediately prior to and including the last date available to register for courses in the semester for which the application applies, the student, or if the student is financially dependent, the parent, guardian, or spouse must register to vote in Maryland, if registered in any other jurisdiction.
- D. A financially independent student classified as in state loses that status at such time as the student no longer meets one or more of the criteria set forth in I.A. C. A financially dependent student classified as in state loses that status at such time as the parent, guardian, or spouse on whom the status was based no longer meets one or more of those criteria.

- E. In addition, persons in the following categories shall be accorded the benefits of instate status for the period in which any of the following conditions apply:
 - 1. A full-time or part-time (at least 50 percent time) regular employee of the University System of Maryland;
 - 2. The spouse of dependent child of a fulltime or part-time (at least 50 percent time) regular employee of the University System of Maryland:
 - 3.A full-time active member of the Armed Forces' of the United States whose home of residence is Maryland or one who resides or is stationed in Maryland, or the spouse, or a financially dependent child of such a person;
 - 4. For UMUC, a full-time active member of the Armed Forces of the United States on active duty, or the spouse of a member of the Armed Forces of the United States on active duty;
 - 5. A graduate assistant appointed through the University System of Maryland for the semester/term of the appointment. Except through prior arrangement, status is applicable only for enrollment at the institution awarding the assistantship.
- F. Students not entitled to in-state status under the preceding paragraphs shall be assigned out-of-state status for admission, tuition, and charge-differential purposes.

II. PROCEDURES

- A. An initial determination of in-state status will be made by the University at the time a student's application for admission is under consideration. The determination made at that time, and any determination made thereafter, shall prevail for each semester/term until the determination is successfully challenged in a timely manner.
- B. A change in residency status must be requested by submitting a University System of Maryland "Petition for Change in Residency Classification for Admission, Tuition and Charge Differential." A student applying for a change to in-state status must furnish all required documentation - with the petition by the last published date to register for the forth coming semester/term for which a residency classification is sought.

- C. The student shall notify the institution in writing within fifteen (15) days of any change of circumstances which may alter in-state status.
- D. In the event incomplete, false, or misleading information is presented, the institution may, at its discretion, revoke in-state status and take other disciplinary actions provided for the institution's policy. If instate status is gained due to false or misleading information, the University reserves the right to retroactively assess all of-of-state charges for each semester/term affected.
- E. Each institution of the University System of Maryland shall develop and publish additional procedures to implement this policy. Procedures shall provide that on request the President or designee has the authority to waive any residency criterion as set forth in Section I, if it is determined that application of the criterion creates an unjust result. These procedures shall be filed with the office of the Chancellor.

III. DEFINITIONS

A. Financially Dependent: For purposes of this policy, a financially dependent student is one who is claimed as a dependent for tax purposes, or who receives more than one-half of his or her support from a parent, legal guardian, or spouse during the twelve (12) month period immediately prior to the last published date for registration for the semester or session. If a student receives more than one-half of his or her support in the aggregate from a parent and/or legal guardian and/or spouse, the student shall be considered financially dependent on the person providing the greater amount of support. The dependent relationship must have formally existed by legally contracted marriage or court order recognized under the laws of the State of Maryland for at least 12 consecutive months immediately prior to and including the last date available to register for courses in the semester/term for which the petition applies.

- B. TOWSON UNIVERSITY SUBSTANCE ABUSE POLICY FOR FACULTY, STAFF AND STUDENTS

University System of Maryland Policy

The University System of Maryland, as an employer, strives to maintain a workplace free from the illegal use, possession or distribution of controlled substances (as defined pursuant to Controlled Substance Act, 21 U.S.C. Sections 801, et. Seq.). Unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensations, possession or use of controlled substances by university employees in the workplace is prohibited under university policy.

In addition to any legal penalties under federal and state law, employees found to be in violation of this policy or the Maryland Governor's Executive Order on Substance Abuse. 01.01.1991.16, may be subject to corrective action under applicable university personnel policies.

The university supports programs aimed at the prevention of substance abuse by university employees. Employees are encouraged to seek assistance for substance-dependency problems. Employee-assistance counseling and leaves of absence to attend rehabilitation programs are appropriate means for dealing with these problems.

Towson University Policy¹

The use of controlled substances and the abuse of alcohol presents a serious threat to individual health and everyone's safety. Moreover, the use of illegal drugs and the abuse of alcohol can result in less-than-complete reliability, stability and good judgment which is inconsistent with the standards set for the faculty, staff and students of this university.

Towson University, as an employer, strives to maintain a workplace free from the illegal use, distribution or possession of controlled substances. Any person found to be participating in such activity will be subject to administrative disciplinary action, mandatory counseling and treatment and/or criminal proceedings.

The use, possession, and/or sale of illegal drugs, are considered violations of Towson University's Student Code of Conduct, the faculty contract, and the terms of employment of administrative, classified and contractual staff. Faculty, students and employees who use, possess or sell illegal drugs shall be subject to discipline, including mandatory counseling, suspension, or dismissal from the university. The university will take disciplinary action based on reasonable available information; such action will be independent of any civil or criminal processes precipitated by the same incident and will follow the policies and procedures of the university and the University System of Maryland Board of Regents.

In the workplace, use, possession, and/or sale of illegal drugs and controlled substances are also violations of state and federal laws for which individuals are subject to university disciplinary processes and/or arrest and criminal prosecution.

These serious workplace situations must be handled in ways which ensure the protection of the civil rights and handicapped rights of the accused, the treatment and rehabilitation of employees, and the notification of the necessary administrative and legal authorities.

Specific procedures for reporting drug use, penalties and appeals are part of the Student Handbook. Employee disciplinary measures and appeals for violations of this policy as well as other policies of the university are part of the Faculty Handbook, the Part-Time Faculty Handbook and the Personnel Manual.

In addition to the university policy on substance abuse, all employees of the university, including student employees, are subject to the Maryland Governor's Executive Order 01.01.1991.16 on the Drug- and Alcohol-Free Workplace.

In accordance with federal legislation, Towson University's substance abuse policy will be distributed annually to all students² and employees through campus or U.S. mail.

Furthermore, the student-athlete is additionally subject to the Towson University Department of Athletics' Substance Abuse Policy. A copy of this policy can be obtained from the Department of Athletics office.

HEALTH RISKS OF SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Substance abuse is now recognized as the number one public health problem in the United States. Approximately 30 percent of all admissions to general hospitals and 50 percent to psychiatric hospitals have detectable substance abuse. Substance abuse accounts for approximately 150,000 deaths annually. This includes deaths from stroke, diseases of the heart and liver, and all alcohol and drug related suicides, homicides and accidents. Early detection can minimize or prevent the devastating consequences of substance abuse.

PENALTIES FOR SUSPECTED DRUG USE, POSSESSION OR SALE ON THE TOWSON UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

A. The use, possession or sale of illegal drugs are violations of state and federal laws for which offenders are subject to arrest and criminal prosecution as well as university administrative processes. These serious offenses must be handled in ways to ensure the guarding of any evidence, the protection of the civil rights of the accused and the notification of the proper authorities. To this end, specific procedures are outlined to be followed in any campus situation where substances are suspected to be illegal drugs.

B. Any individual directly associated with the University System of Maryland who uses or becomes involved with illegal drugs without proper medical supervision shall be subject to such discipline, including suspension or dismissal from the state university and college system, as may be appropriate.

C. Students, faculty and staff, in their routine activities, may observe suspected drug activities. As a result, some staff members become involved in the determination of any disciplinary action that follows suspected use, possession or distribution of an illegal substance. Specific actions or responsibilities in regard to the suspicion of illegal substances are listed in the following passage.

D. The university reserves the right to conduct drug testing consistent with applicable federal and state laws.

LOCAL, STATE AND FEDERAL LAW DESCRIPTIONS RELATING TO POSSES-SION AND DISTRIBUTION

Students and employees at Towson are subject to federal, state and local laws for the possession and distribution of illegal drugs.

Federal law3 states that it is unlawful to possess any controlled substance, including marijuana, cocaine and heroin, for any illegal purpose. If the substance is cocaine, or contains a cocaine base, the penalty for simple possession is a fine and/or imprisonment from five to 20 years. For other illegal drugs, the penalty for simple possession is a fine of at least $1000 and/or imprisonment for up to three years. The penalties increase if the possession includes intent to manufacture, distribute or dispense a controlled substance, especially if done so near a public or private elementary, vocational, or secondary school, or a public or private college or university. Additionally, any person who violates this law shall also be liable to the U.S. for an amount up to $10,000 in civil penalties.

In addition to the federal laws, the state of Maryland has its own laws dealing with distribution, manufacturing and possession of controlled substance. For instance, any person who unlawfully manufactures or distributes any controlled dangerous substances may be fined up to $25,000 and may be imprisoned for up to 20 years for a first offense.⁴

Students and employees at Towson are subject to state and local laws for drinking and obtaining alcohol.

It is illegal in the state of Maryland for any person under 21 to drink alcohol.⁵ It is also illegal for a person under 21 to falsify or misrepresent his or her age to obtain alcohol, or to possess alcoholic beverages with the intent to consume them.⁶ It is also illegal in most situations to furnish alcohol to a person under 21, or to obtain alcohol on behalf of a person under 21. The penalty is a fine up to $500 for a first offense, and up to $1000 for repeat offenses.

In addition, state law⁷ dictates that it is illegal in Baltimore County to possess alcohol in an open container in any parking lot of any shopping center or retail store, unless given permission by the owner. The penalty is a fine up to $100.

It is also illegal in Baltimore County to consume alcohol on any public property or highway, with penalties including a fine of up to $100 and/or imprisonment of up to 30 days.

Students and employees of Towson University are also subject to state and local laws governing drinking and driving.⁸ It is unlawful to drink and then drive.⁹ A Blood Alcohol Level of .07 or 1.0 will result in fines, imprisonment or both. Individuals under 21 with a B.A.L. of only .02 (approximately 1 drink) will be charged with a violation of restricted license which will result in a suspended license until the age of 21.¹⁰

Any individual with a B.A.L. of .07 or more will be charged with a violation of Driving While Under the Influence.¹¹ A B.A.L. of .10 or more will result in a violation of Driving While Intoxicated.¹²

It is also unlawful to drive while under the influence of any controlled dangerous substances, whether or not they are licit or illicit (prescribed or unlawfully obtained).¹³ Persons can still be charged with these violation, even though they possess a driver's license from another state.¹⁴

(1) being knowledgeable of, and observing, all university and Graduate School policies, regulations, procedures and academic requirements, including specific requirements of the program; and (2) participating in the maintenance of a high standard of academic integrity.

Appeals and grievances are initiated by the student. Hearings are initiated by the university.

APPEALS

Exceptions to Policies: A student may petition for an exception to academic and admissions policies and procedures on either procedural or substantive grounds. The petition must be made to the dean of the Graduate School. If not satisfied with the dean's decision, the student may submit a written appeal to the Graduate Studies Committee, c/o the Graduate School. Appeal of a Graduate Studies Committee decision is made in writing to the provost of the university.

Appeals of academic and admissions policies other than those that follow must adhere to the appeals procedure stated above. Dismissal From Programs: The dean of the Graduate School may dismiss a student for cause from a program based on academic or other Graduate School policies or on the recommendation of a department. A student who is dismissed will be notified in writing of the dismissal. The student's written appeal must be received in the Graduate School within 15 working days of the date of the notification of dismissal.

Grades: A student appealing a course grade must make all reasonable efforts to resolve the matter informally in the following sequence: (1) he or she must meet with the instructor; (2) if not satisfied, the student meets with the department chairperson; (3) if still not satisfied, the student meets with the dean of the college or school. If the problem is not resolved to the student's satisfaction, he or she may appeal in writing to the Graduate Studies Committee. The appeal will be received only after the above steps have been taken, and must be received by the Graduate Studies Committee no later than the end of the semester following the one in which the grade was received.

The Graduate Studies Committee reviews the appeal, and will send it to the Adjudication Committee only if there is sufficient evidence that a grade has not been determined in accordance with the terms set forth by the instructor.

Academic Integrity: Instructors are responsible for maintaining the academic integrity of courses and will initially handle problems of classroom conduct, including, but not limited to, cheating and plagiarism. The instructor may lower the student's grade or give a failing grade for the course. A student appealing an instructor's decision must make all reasonable effort to resolve the matter informally in the following sequence: (1) he or she must meet with the instructor; (2) if not satisfied, the student meets with the department chairperson; (3) if the problem is not resolved to the student's satisfaction, he or she may appeal in writing to the Graduate Studies Committee. The appeal will be received only after the above steps have been taken, and must be received by the Graduate Studies Committee no later than the end of the semester following the one in which the grade was received.

Students are expected to maintain a high standard of academic integrity. If a violation of academic integrity occurs in a classroom and if the instructor decides that further action beyond that taken within the course is warranted, he or she will notify the student that a formal charge will be made to the Graduate School Committee. A written report of the incident will be filed with the committee.

In cases of violation of Graduate School policies, efforts will be made by the Graduate School administration to clarify and to allow the student the opportunity to address and resolve the issue before any charges are made in writing to the Graduate Studies Committee.

A hearing before the Graduate Studies Committee is held whenever charges are made against a student by the Graduate School for infraction of Graduate School policy which includes, but is not limited to, academic integrity, falsification of documents, or other acts of misrepresentation. Disciplinary action by the committee may include dismissal from the Graduate School.

Hearing Procedures:

- 1. The proceedings are recorded.
- 2 The chairperson of the Graduate Studies Committee explains the purpose of the hearing.
- 3. The chairperson reads the charges. The student is present for the hearing. If the student does not appear, this will be stated for the record and construed as a plea of guilty.
- 4. The student may be accompanied by a friendly observer. This party may not be or act as legal counsel, except when concurrent criminal charges have been filed. Then counsel may advise the accused party but may not otherwise participate in the hearing.
- Evidence, either in writing or by testimony of witness, is presented. Witnesses may be questioned by the committee and the student.
- 6. The student is afforded an opportunity to present his or her side of the story and to call witnesses. Character witnesses will not be heard. Witnesses for the student may be questioned by the committee and then be excused.
- 7. The committee members may ask questions of the student, the instructor, and the graduate coordinator.

- 8. The student may ask questions and make a closing statement.
 - 9. The student and other noncommittee members are excused.
 - The committee deliberates in executive session and renders a decision. These deliberations are not recorded.
 - 11. The student is notified of the decision by letter within 15 days of the hearing. When appropriate, the notification includes instructions on further appeals.
 - 12. The recording will be kept on file in the Graduate School for one year.

If a student alleges discrimination and/or harassment, he or she shall make all reasonable effort to resolve the issue(s) with, and in the following order: (1) the instructor, (2) the department chairperson and (3) the dean of the college or school within 30 days of the alleged incident.
